Civil rights official says hair code like Canyon's is not legal

Canyon school district's dress code for students is illegal and can be challenged through federal offices, an Office of Civil Rights official indicated Tuesday.

John Bell of the Dallas regional Office of Civil Rights told a school board association workshop Tuesday his office is now enforcing the tenets of Title IX, the controversial federal law which requires that sexual discrimination be halted, and that local school boards have been informed that dress codes are in violation of the law.

Bell told The News between 60 and 80 per cent of the complaints lodged with the Dallas office since January have involved the use by school districts of discriminatory dress codes for students.

Bell said HEW called a moratorium on enforcement of Title IX as it relates to dress codes until Jan. 1, 1976, and that now complaints about dress code discrimination will draw action from the federal office for compliance. If HEW itself cannot convince a school district to comply with Title IX, he said, the U.S. Department of Justice is obligated to file suit to force the district to abide by the law.

Bell said any dress code which sets a standard of hair length for men students but does not set a similar standard of hair length for women students is in violation of the law.

The Canyon school district dress code requires that male students keep their hair cut above collar length and above the middle of the ear. There is no similar provision for women students.

The Canyon dress code has been a point of controversy for years and last fall the board noted the moratorium on enforcement of Title IX in relation to dress codes.

The board reviews its dress code each summer prior to the start of school for the fall term.

In the past, male students' pictures have been deleted from the high school yearbook because of dress code violations. The board called for strict enforcement of the code this past fall and, according to a report by high school administrators, spot hair checks were instituted during class time to ensure compliance.

In outlining requirements for the taking of senior pictures next year, the board mandated that the pictures must be taken on the CHS campus. Board members admitted recently the mandate was due to their intention of strictly enforcing the hair code.

Bell was key speaker at one workshop session Tuesday during the annual school board confab on the West Texas State University campus sponsored by WTSU and the Texas Association of School Boards.

A keynote speaker at the noon luncheon for visiting school board members and administrators cited the impending likelihood of unionization of Texas teachers and the prospect for a federal law which would require school boards to enter into collective bargaining with teachers.

Raymond Bynum of the Texas Education Agency predicted that within the next four years the U.S. Congress will pass a law requiring collective bargaining for public employees and binding arbitration in the case of impasse.

Bynum indicated that legislation passed last year by the state altering the financing of public schools could remain on the books in the state. The legislation has been blamed locally for increasing local taxes while reducing state input into the CISD budget.

Ellen Anderson, director of publications for the Texas Association of School Boards, directed a broadside attack at the Texas State Teachers Association during a brief workshop session during the afternoon.

Mrs. Anderson said the leadership of the Texas teacher group is advocating mandatory collective bargaining for all school districts even though teacher-members of TSTA have not supported the measure in the

$3 million issue on May ballot

A $2,950,000 bond issue will be on the ballot for Canyon school district voters May 25 for the construction of a new elementary school and additions to Canyon High School.

Canyon school board members Tuesday night called a bond issue, the third since December, for the May 25 date.

They did not select a site for a proposed elementary school, although they met in executive session until after midnight to discuss the subject. Supt. Jerry Jacobs said Wednesday he hopes a recommendation on site of the school will be made public at a specially-called meeting next Tuesday afternoon.

The board is to meet Tuesday to finalize legal requirements for the new bond election.

The board this week approved ballot proposals for a new elementary school to house 600 students and to cost $1,275,000, and additions to the high school at a cost of $1.6 million.

The proposal was significantly below the bond issue proposals which have been on the ballot in December and in February, both of which were defeated at the polls. The December issue asked for approval to build a new elementary school, new high school and upgrade CHS at a cost of $6 million. The February proposal asked for $5.5 million to construct a new elementary school, junior high and remodel CHS.

Architect B.R. Cantrell told the board Tuesday night the elementary school design proposed will not be of the open classroom concept.

Board members stressed it is not their intent to build an open classroom building for elementary students.

Proposals for construction of the elementary school and additions to the high school will be combined on the May 25 ballot.

Board members rejected on a 5-2 vote a motion by Roscoe Richardson that the two proposals be separate on the ballot with voters given the option of voting for both.

Mrs. Jean Irwin, new board member, made the motion to combine the proposals on the ballot. It passed with five board members voting in favor and Richardson and Ed Wieck abstaining.

The preliminary cost estimate presented by Cantrell for construction of the elementary school calls for $83,800 for site work; $945,000 for a 41,000 square foot building; $25,700 for contingency fee; $63,200 for architect's fees; $52,000 for kitchen equipment; $105,000 for furniture and equipment.

The school is to include 18 classrooms, three each for six grades, kindergarten rooms and special education facilities.

Additions to Canyon High School include the following:

*A spectator gym of 20,900 square feet for $677,500
*Folding bleachers for the gym at $34,000
*A band hall addition of 5000 square feet at $162,000
*Seven additional classrooms with restrooms and lockers of 9000 square feet at $225,000
*Expansion of the library of 4278 square feet at $96,000
*Remodelling of the art department at $25,000
*Remodelling of the science department at $35,000
*Six fenced, unlighted tennis courts at $55,000
*New parking area for 210 cars, bus loading pavement and sidewalks at $60,000
*Contingency allowance of $48,000
*Architect fees of $85,000
*Furniture and equipment of $105,000

Jacobs said the addition would accommodate 300 additional

Collins to support bond vote

The leader of the opposition in two previous school bond issue attempts said Wednesday he will support the May 25 bond issue proposal.

Stan Collins, an Amarillo investor who organized opposition to December and February bond issue efforts, said he backs the current $2,950,000 bond issue proposal for construction of a new elementary school and additions to Canyon High School.

He said he supports the bond issue because he understands the new elementary school will be located on a site which is sufficiently removed from South Amarillo so as not to encourage the education of South Amarillo children, and because he understands the school board is willing to continue de-annexations of lands west of the Canyon expressway.

"I want to thank the taxpayers of the Canyon school district, particularly the members of the opposing committees, because the results of the last two elections have been to save the taxpayers untold millions in expense to educate Amarillo children and to save us from ruinous bond issues which would have broken the taxpayers and to give a tax break to senior citizens," he said. Collins said the opposition to earlier bond issues also served to assure that Canyon High was not split into "two inadequate high schools."

"I say to the Canyon school board if they had come out with this bond election in the first place, we could have an elementary school and additions to the high school underway right now," he said. "This is exactly in line with what I called for at the school board meeting prior to calling the last bond election."

Collins said he feels the cost estimate for construction of the elementary school, a figure over the $1.2 million mark, may be too high. But, he said, that will not preclude his support.

"I call on the board to take another look at that figure," he said. "But, they don't have to spend all the money (the bond election would authorize)."

It was a "traffic stopper" as a large house came travelling down mainstreet Canyon Tuesday morning. The large wooden frame house was ultimately set onto pilings and prepared foundations at 4th Street and 5th Avenue in the city. The lack of available housing throughout the city is being met by efforts such as this move-in, and the record-breaking new home construction now underway.

Demo precinct resolution asks that WTSU go into UT system

A resolution urging Texas legislators to pass a bill making West Texas State University a part of the University of Texas system was one of a handful passed last Saturday during Democratic and Republican party precinct conventions.

Several of the resolutions will go before county conventions of both parties this Saturday night in Canyon and Amarillo.

Other resolutions passed at the precinct level followed a pattern in both parties, taking particular aim at the so-called Equal Rights Amendment (ERA), the need for a constitutional amendment to outlaw abortions, and voter registration requirements imposed by state and federal governments.

The convention for Democrats in precinct 20, a South Amarillo precinct, passed the resolution that WTSU be incorporated into the UT system.

The precinct, chaired by Robert Cleland, who is traditionally active in party politics at the precinct and county levels, also resolved to ask that the legislature enact a new presidential primary bill so the people of Texas may continue to participate in the selection of candidates for the presidency.

An anti-ERA resolution crossed party lines Saturday night as it received endorsement by several Democratic and Republican precinct conventions.

The resolution which passed in the precincts contends the ERA will do nothing for women that is not available through statutes. It also contends "the ERA will take away a large number of rights from women, including the right to be exempt from the draft and from military combat duty, the right of a wife to be supported by her husband and to have her children supported by her husband, and the right of working women to have the benefit of protective legislation."

The resolution urges the Texas Legislature to rescind its ratification of the ERA and that those states which have not rescinded ratification of the amendment do likewise.

Another resolution passed by several Democratic and Republi-

Day of reckoning Mon. for WTSU athletic drive

The status of intercollegiate athletics will be reviewed again Monday when West Texas State University regents meet here to hear a report on recent fund-raising efforts and a plea from several supporters.

Keith Winter, director of development, is scheduled to tell regents how much a four-month fund-raising drive throughout the Panhandle has produced to balance an anticipated $125,000 budget deficit for the athletic program.

Former Regent Boone Pickens of Amarillo is expected to make a formal presentation to regents on the status of athletics, but he would not reveal the specifics of his proposal this week.

As of May 1, the athletic fund drive had produced nearly $100,000 in funds and about $110,000 in pledges of support.

Regents in January told Athletic Director Gene Mayfield his athletic budget for next year would be cut by the amount less than $125,000 he was unable to raise.

Dr. Jack Bullock, appointed in January to assist President Lloyd Watkins in athletic planning and budgeting, has said the proposed budget for next year includes the full $125,000 anticipated revenue from the fund drive.

Pickens, who was an original board member appointed by then-Gov. Preston Smith in 1969, said this week only that he has "a great concern for the program."

He said several other supporters will appear with him at the meeting.

A source close to the situation said Pickens is expected to make a plea for full support of Mayfield, who has been the target of criticism from some supporters. The source said Pickens is also expected to ask that Bullock be removed as special assistant to the president for athletics and that Winter be removed from future fund-raising efforts.

Regents are also to consider during the meeting whether to construct a new home on campus for Watkins.

A special regents committee of T.L. Roach, Wallace Harrell and Mrs. Mary Sims is to report on their study of the need for, the size and the function of a president's home. Currently, the regents allocate housing allowance funds for the maintenance of Watkins' private home in

Fund hike proposed for women

A special committee at West Texas State University has recommended to President Lloyd Watkins that 56 $1200 scholarships be provided women athletes by 1978-79, that a women's tennis team be organized and that funds be increased in other areas to bring the women's athletic program on a par with the men's.

The committee, appointed by Watkins last fall to study the university's compliance with Title IX, the controversial federal regulations requiring the elimination of discrimination on the basis of sex, has also recommended establishment of a grievance committee to hear complaints from staff members and students.

Karen Johnson, university legal counsel and chairman of the committee, said this week recommendations call for the expenditure of $68,000 in 1978-79 for scholarships only. Other recommendations from the committee call for further fund expenditures. For next year, women's athletics at the university has a budget of about $37,000.

Additional budget is needed to

Progress made on WT safety

(Editor's note: A year ago this week, The News published a series of articles on fire safety at West Texas State University, noting several deficiencies in the university fire safety system. The following is a follow-up on what the university has done since that time to improve the system.)

Several key fire safety problems on the West Texas State University campus have already been solved and others are in various stages of resolution, Financial Vice President Hermas Miller said this week.

Many improvements were the direct result of a fire last summer in the old administration building, cited in a News series last spring as the building most in need of new protection gear.

And others were the result of a state fire marshall's inspection of the university last fall, an inspection requested by the university.

Miller said he's broken the fire marshall's report down by areas of responsibility and work has begun to implement suggestions in the report.

"Those areas where cleaning up was needed, we've done that," he said. "In those areas where substantial amounts of money are needed, we're in the process."

A fire last summer in the old administration building resulted in several improvements in the fire protection system in that building, he said.

Along with remodelling of the structure, state funds went into

Ritter, Hines on ballot for Saturday's run-off

City voters will decide Saturday between a businessman and a university professor to fill the vacant Place 3 on the city commission.

Steve Hines, auto parts store owner, and George Ritter, assistant professor of political science, face each other in a run-off for the single commission seat. Voting at the community center will be held from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Hines topped Ritter by ten votes over a field of five candidates in the April 3 city election. With no candidate receiving a majority of the vote, the run-off was called for the top two vote-getters.

Mayor Manly Bryan and Commissioner H.R. Fulton, unopposed on the ballot, were reelected.

The second city election was set immediately following the Democratic and Republican primary elections last Saturday because state law prohibited holding the two elections together.

Commissioner Jim Christopher, who did not seek reelection to his city seat, has continued to serve until the run-off. Christopher lost a bid Saturday for the county commissioners court.

Hines, who will be listed first on the ballot, sees growth as the major issue facing the city.

He said in an earlier interview that he would like to increase the cooperation between city government and groups such as the Chamber of Commerce, the university, and city merchants.

He supports expended park and recreation program, to be financed partly with taxes derived from the city's increased growth.

Hines also said he would place a high budget priority on law enforcement.

Ritter would like to see a heavy involvement by the city commission in parks and recreation. He chairs the city parks and recreation board and is a member of the planning and zoning board.

Ritter is flexible on financing for recreation, willing to try a bond issue or any other method okayed by voters. He sees matching funds as an important

County talks with reappraisal firms

County commissioners talked to two more reappraisal firms Monday.

Both were instructed to contact Mrs. Audrey Bruse, tax collector, with a bid proposal on costs. Other firms which have already made presentations have proposed costs ranging from just under $300,000 to more than $350,000 for the job.

Commissioners heard presentations from Jim McMorries of Hereford and Roy Baxter of Amarillo.

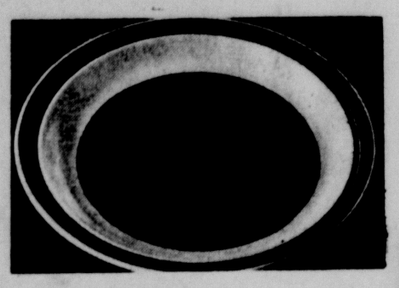

Commissioners also approved a $14,560 payment to the City of Amarillo for fire fighting service for next year. A new contract for fire fighting service in rural areas will be negotiated next October.

They also agreed to pay off about $75,000 in outstanding bonds for construction of the new South Amarillo courthouse annex.

They tabled a plat request for a new division of Timbercreek subdivision, noting that the developers have already begun construction of paved roads in the area.

Service awards are presented at year end CCTA banquet

Climaxing the year's activities of the Canyon Classroom Teachers Association the annual banquet was held Tuesday, May 4, at the Canyon Junior High School.

Featuring a bicentennial theme, the tables were decorated with helium filled red, white, and blue balloons, flags, and white top hats with red, white and blue banners and the dates 1776-1976.

Dr. Charles Townsend, WTSU history professor, the featured speaker, was introduced by Edith Priddy, vice-president. Dr. Townsend chose to discuss the life of Samuel Adams, a real leader of the times.

Facts he brought out about Samuel Adams showed that he was very attentive to politics and the needs of the people, was a man who stuck to his principles, and was a believer that Christianity and democracy were meant to go together.

Adams felt he had a purpose for life and in all political endeavors wanted a peaceful revolution. He had been educated at Harvard receiving an AB degree in 1740 and staying three more years to receive an AM degree.

His influence was felt as a writer of speeches that he successfully got others to give in support of his ideas. He also wrote for newspaper publications the ideas he supported.

According to Dr. Townsend, the American people should greatly appreciate Samuel Adams, a man in his time who was able to keep propaganda going whenever liberties were in jeopardy.

Herman Demus, president of the Randall County Unit of Texas State Teachers Association, introduced the new officers for the Classroom Teachers for 1976-1977. The officers include Guyda Webb, president; Inell Zevely, president elect; vice-president, Rosemary Ramaekers; Penny Allen, secretary; Vera Brown, treasurer; and Patsy Sommer, parliamentarian.

Janet Lasher, a Canyon High School senior Future Teachers Association member, was presented as the recipient of the $200 scholarship granted by the Canyon Classroom Teachers Association.

The school board members, spouses, retired teachers, student teachers, and administrators were special guests recognized by the president, Patsy Sommer.

Superintendent Jerry Jacobs and school board president, Tom Keeling presented service pins to the following personnel: five years: Duane Chapman, Dale Hamby, Jerrie Langen, Lucinda Lasell, Mary Jane Reeves, Elizabeth Bellamy, Gwen Moreland, Juanita Cross, Faye Byrd, Jan Winstead, Cathy Cameron, Sandra Coleman; ten years: Mary Berry, Jean Galloway, Ronnie Gordon, Denny Park, Ann Read, Bob Schneider, Jerry Jacobs, Conway Kuykendall, Floretta Wright; fifteen years: Charlotte Brantley, Bessie Ellis, Martha Hester, Janelle Hicks, Edith Priddy, Elizabeth Read, Gene Murray; twenty-five years: Dorothea Green.

Petersens to attend rites honoring Queen Margrethe

West Texas State University Associate Professor of History Peter Petersen and his wife Shirley will attend special ceremonies honoring Queen Margrethe II of Denmark May 20.

The queen will be presenting a special Bicentennial Commencement address at Dana College, the only four-year college in America founded by Danish pioneers, in Blair, Nebraska.

Petersen and his wife attended Dana College in the early 1960s and both are descended from Danish immigrants.

Queen Margrethe, the youngest ruling monarch in the world, is following in the footsteps of her father, who visited the college in 1939, a few weeks before he ascended to the throne. She will be presented an honorary doctorate by the college's faculty and regents.

Petersen formerly taught at Dana College in the summers of 1963 and 1964.

In 1974, he published in the "Annals of Iowa" an article on the Danish-American loyalty and language during World War I.

"It was a study of the effects of the loyalty issue on the language habits of the Danish-Americans in the Midwest," Petersen notes. "Until World War I, the Danish language had been used in most Danish-American churches, seminaries, newspapers and so on. The loyalty question associated with the war hastened the replacement of Danish with English."

Petersen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Petersen of Botna, Iowa.

PILL POPPING— NEW NATIONAL PASTIME

It is hard to believe that according to recent reports, about half the public swallows some type of pill every 24 hours. This compares to the one in three who said they had read a magazine or one in 20 who participated in an active sport.

There is much danger in indiscriminate taking of medication and we as pharmacists are very much aware of the problems. We caution and urge people to consult their family physician when they are ill. Self-medication in other than very simple circumstances can cause more harm than good.

"A GREAT MANY PEOPLE ENTRUST US with their prescriptions, health needs and other pharmacy products. We consider this trust a privilege and a duty. May we be your personal family pharmacy?"

construction of a fire escape system for the building. A new stand-pipe fire-fighting system was installed within the building along with new hoses. Fire extinguishers were also updated, he said.

For awhile, one wing of the building, a classroom module area constructed less than a decade ago to replace the building's auditorium, was placed off-limits to student classes. But Miller said an engineer report on the structural safety of the wing indicates it will hold the student load anticipated.

He said, though, class limits will be placed on the classes conducted in the wing.

Miller said current plans call for refurbishing of the university maintenance shops to make them more fire safe. A barracks building used by the maintenance department will be torn down if regents approve of the project Monday, he said.

Miller said the search continues for a fire safety officer for the university. Regents earlier this year approved the position for the campus and Miller said he has narrowed the field of candidates and a decision is expected within the next week or so.

He said a first priority for the fire safety officer will be to prepare information for each building on fire escape routes and evacuation routes. Adequate signs will be posted to notify students and faculty of the routes, he said.

Miller said he is also planning to implement next fall a system for notification of the various inhabitants of campus buildings in case of tornado or other impending dangers.

An engineering firm is currently working on the design of an underground utility tunnel for the campus. Miller said the tunnel is projected to include new fire hydrant lines to replace the virtually useless fire hydrants now dotting the campus. The current hydrants are routed through the city's metering system.

A $320,000 appropriation from the state will finance the new utility tunnel system.

purchase equipment, uniforms and shoes for the women's programs, the committee says.

Funding is also needed to fly some of the women's teams to competition locations more than 400 miles from the Canyon campus.

Additional salary for coaches is also recommended.

Money will also be needed for a recommendation that medical expenses involved in varsity competition be paid by the university, that a trainer be hired for women's athletics, that a training facility with equipment be provided and that full room and board be alloted for scholarships for women.

The committee also recommends that women's teams not be required to schedule their games and practices around the practices and games of men's teams.

"Prime time," notes the committee, "presently goes to the men."

Locker rooms are needed for visiting teams in the fieldhouse, the recommendations say.

The recommendations also include a call for a person to be assigned to provide news media with information on women's athletics.

The committee review of university policies and procedures is part of a Title IX-mandated self-evaluation.

Women can currently compete at the varsity level in volleyball, basketball, softball, track, golf and rifle. The committee recommends rifle be dropped to club status.

Men can currently compete at the varsity level in football, basketball, track, tennis, golf and cross country.

Mrs. Irwin expressed confidence the bond issue will pass on May 25.

Mrs. Ann Asquith, who has opposed other bond issues, told the board she felt the bond issue could be supported as proposed.

The elementary school plans as tentatively approved is for about 7000 fewer square feet than was included in recent defeated proposals. The new drawing eliminates a separate cafeteria facility and provides for an all-purpose room to be used as cafeteria, auditorium and gymnasium.

In other business Tuesday night, the board heard reports from school principals Dave Corley and John Sommer on progress made in implementing suggested upgrading of facilities and curricula. The recommendations were from a school self-study and a team study made under the auspices of the regional accrediting agency.

Information school is climax of PTA year

BY KAROLYN FARMER

THE CLIMAX OF the year's activities for the Amarillo Area Council of PTA is the annual School of Information. The Area Council is made up of Amarillo, Bushland and Canyon School District PTA local councils.

The meeting was held at the First Christian Church in Amarillo on Tuesday, May 4. Mrs. Donald Sampley, who is on the Texas PTA Board of Managers, was the featured speaker.

Another important part of the program was a large number of workshops for new PTA officers. Troyce Mulherin, a former Gene Howe PTA president, conducted the workshop for recording secretaries.

Those who attended the School of Information from Gene Howe School were Luther Lawless, Karolyn Farmer, Sarah Edwards, Sandra Wait, Farris Ann Morrison, Raydell Palmer, Phyllis Hicks, Barbara Wood, Carolyn Davis, Gayle Betty, Shirley Cates and Judy Stubblefield.

A luncheon followed the morning meeting. Gay Cochran, Von Dean McGregor, Margie Phillips and Ernestine Harp attended the luncheon as special guests of Gene Howe PTA.

Special recognition was given to all PTA Life Members who were present. Those recognized from Gene Howe were Luther Lawless, Troyce Mulherin, Ernestine Harp and Margie Phillips.

One part of the program which followed the luncheon was the installation of new Council Officers for next year. Among those installed was Troyce Mulherin, who will serve as Third Vice President in charge of health and welfare.

FRANCES AND JACK Block are enjoying having their son, David, his wife, Donna and their eleven month-old son, Dana, in their home for an extended visit.

David and his family have just recently moved back to Texas from Wolf Point, Montana, and are looking for a home of their own.

Frances and Jack are residents of Southgate Park, and Jack is the pastor of the Western Plateau Community Church.

JERRIE LANGEN'S THIRD grade class took part in a special project this week to help beautify Gene Howe Park.

The third graders' project was the planting of their very own tree on the schoolgrounds. After making the decision, the children each donated money and even helped dig the hole in which to plant the honey locust tree.

The special "groundbreaking ceremonies" were held on Tuesday, May 4.

ALICIA NIEMEIER'S FIRST grade class was presented the Gene Howe PTA Banner this week for having the most parents to attend the PTA Meeting on May 3.

About 60 parents (and relatives) of Mrs. Niemeier's students signed the attendance book on Monday evening.

Sandra Wait, Membership Chairman, presented the banner to the class on Tuesday.

SPEAKING OF THE May 3rd PTA Meeting, be sure to read the article containing all the details of the meeting elsewhere in this edition of the Canyon News.

Doris McKee, Gene Howe PTA Reporter, was responsible for the write-up of our last PTA meeting for this year.

The first graders who presented the program were all precious, and their mothers had also done a great job with the costumes and set decorations. Of course, a lot of credit goes to Margie Phillips and the first grade teachers, Sheila Davis, Alicia Niemeier and Portia Tillinghast.

Many thanks, too, go to Gaylia Cochran, Gene Howe reading teacher, who conducted the installation of new officers.

PORTIA TILLINGHAST'S FIRST graders are enjoying the excitement of being "new parents." For several weeks the children have been carefully tending to chicken and quail eggs in an incubator borrowed from Rose Mary Ramackers' son.

Last week, while the class watched, one of the little chicks slowly pecked its way into the world. The boys and girls are continuing to care for one baby chicken and one baby quail, who live in a special home constructed by Jim Bruffett, John's father.

The new births were the climax of a unit on chickens and the development of their eggs.

JAY EDWARDS, THE son of Billy and Sarah, is in Northwest Texas Hospital. Jay is undergoing a series of tests.

SPRING IS THE season for field trips at Gene Howe, and everyone is enjoying the variety of activities.

The fourth grade classes got an early start by taking their field trip last March to the Discovery Center in Amarillo. They enjoyed a "Journey Through Space" and learned more about many of the star formations they had been studying in school. Another part of the program followed the history of flight, from the first airplane to space ships.

THE FIRST GRADE boys and girls took their field trip on April 23rd. Their trip to Thompson Park included a picnic lunch, a visit to the zoo and lots of fun and games.

The students in the first grade also took an earlier trip to the Continental Bus Station and were treated to a bus ride.

BOYS AND GIRLS in the third grade classes went to Connor Park last Thursday for a picnic. They also visited several places in Canyon, including the post office and the fire station.

EACH OF THE four Kindergarten classes has been studying a unit on farms and dairies, led by student teachers, Anita Arellano and Stephanie Thompson.

On Tuesday of this week, the students in Anita Harp's classes visited the farms of three of their classmates, Susie Detten, Trisha Robinson and Michael Steen.

The most popular attractions during their visit were the baby lambs, baby pigs, a turkey and a peacock.

Anita's students are looking forward to touring the WT dairy farm next week.

Pam Layman's students will visit the WT dairy this Friday, and are planning to go to the farm of classmate, Jana Carthel, next Monday.

FIELD TRIPS ARE scheduled for the fifth grade students on Friday, May 7th, and for the second graders on Thursday, May 13th.

SEVERAL CAMP FIRE Girls from Gene Howe, along with their leader, Ellen Hickerson, attended the Defensive Awareness Clinic held last Saturday at the Amarillo YWCA.

The clinic was sponsored by the area Camp Fire Girls and was a public service project open to the public. Emphasis was placed on personal safety for girls, and offered suggestions to help the girls avoid harmful or dangerous situations.

The local Camp Fire Girls are looking forward to a special event this weekend. Over 200 area girls are expected to attend the Grand Council Fire at Camp Don Harrington beginning Friday evening and lasting through Saturday.

DAVID AND PAULA Cruse are two of the newest students at Gene Howe. David is nine years old and is in Johnnie Gordon's third grade class. Paula, who is eleven, is in Mrs. Boatright's fifth grade class.

Their parents are Bob and Elaine Cruse. The youngest member of the family is Melody, who will celebrate her second birthday on May 15th.

The Cruse family recently moved from Hardesty, Oklahoma, and Bob is now engaged in farming in the Gene Howe area. Elaine is originally from Minnesota, where both Paula and David were born. Bob is a native of Oklahoma.

David's favorite past-time is playing basketball. Paula also likes sports and was a cheerleader at her former school.

KYLE FARMER IS coaching the newly formed Steelers of the Babe Ruth Baseball League.

The boys played their first game last Saturday against the Happy Panthers, losing by a score of 8-5. (Since I'm just slightly prejudiced, I hope to report winning scores for the rest of their games).

Ches Bostick is the team's assistant coach. The players are: Chris Betty, Britt Bostick, Ken Cates, Scott Davis, Kent Farmer, Allen Freeman, Randy Green, Lynn Gregory, Darrell Hawkins, Monte Johnson, Danny McGregor, Jim Phipps and Rusty Riley.

THE CHS SENIOR Class Dinner Dance is scheduled for Saturday, May 15, at the Tascosa Country Club, from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. Outside dates of the senior students may attend the dinner dance, but the all night party following the dance will be limited to CHS seniors only.

The events are being sponsored and paid for by the parents of the senior class. The cost for the entire evening (and morning) is $25, with a charge of $15 if they wish to attend only one of the parties.

Senior students must have their reservations and money in by this Friday. These should be sent to Mrs. Weldon (Ida) Hager at 2600 10th Avenue in Canyon.

A DATE TO remember: May 25th; and the event is the 6th grade band and choir concert at Gene Howe. Margie Phillips, J.W. King and all of their sixth grade students will be presenting their last concert of the year, and everyone is invited to attend.

The program will begin at 7:00 p.m., and there will be no admission charge.

City votes park funds but delays use decision

City commissioners signaled their intent to turn over $13,100 from the sale of city property to the parks and recreation board but left the decision on the use for the additional money until later.

City officials approved a motion of intent Monday night but asked city manager Glen Metcalf to confer with school officials about matching the funds for tennis courts before a final decision is reached.

Metcalf had recommended that the additional money be used to build a road into the new Southeast Park and to extend water lines.

"We're building facilities down there we don't have access to or utilities for — especially water," Metcalf said. "These are important considerations."

George Ritter, chairman of the parks and recreation board, told commissioners that, even though he had voted for the unanimous motion of the parks board to ask for the funds for tennis courts, he was "well disposed to the city manager's suggestion."

The commissioners questioned Ritter about construction of tennis courts and then asked Metcalf to meet with school officials. Ritter estimated that a single court cost $15,000 and two could be built for $24,000.

The parks discussion occupied 13 minutes of a 19-minute meeting.

Mayor Manly Bryan called the meeting to order at 7:04. A public hearing on a zoning request for a new unit of Hunsley Hills stretched out to just over three minutes when Commissioner Jim Christopher questioned Metcalf on trash collection for multi-family units there.

John King, Canyon High School senior, receives a certificate from art instructor, Charlotte Brantley. The certificate is in recognition of King's pen and ink drawing which received an honorable mention at the recently completed National Scholastic Art Contests where thousands of students from 50 states across the nation had works entered. King is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J.W. King, Jr., of Canyon.

Square dancers make May plans

Roger and Phyllis Dugan were named to the presidential office of the Canyon Capers Square Dance Club recently and will be assuming their duties on June 1.

Other officers for the coming year include Bob and Virginia Costley, vice presidents; Jack and Maggie Williams, secretary-treasurer; Lewis and Margaret Tucek, social chairman; and Phyllis Dugan, club sweetheart.

The officer's dinner has been set for May 15 at K-Bob's restaurant in Puckett Plaza to begin at 7 p.m.

The club will be meeting for square dancing sessions and lessons on the first and third Mondays throughout the summer months at the Jr. Livestock Building in Canyon. The club's most recent meeting was held Monday evening with Randy Costley as caller.

Had a party? Or giving one? Tell The Canyon News about it. Telephone 655-7121, or stop by the News office on the south side of the square.

Kindergarten orientation was conducted for youngsters who will be enrolling at Rex Reeves Elementary School this fall. The orientation was held this week with parents being informed of school rules, and regulations being given while the youngsters enjoyed a "story time" with Mrs. Bonifield, kindergarten instructor, and aide from Future Teachers of America members, Julie McGlasson, and Janet Malahm, left, in background. The PTA members also served the banquet for Canyon Classroom Teacher's association on Tuesday evening.

For This Mother's Day, Area Children Went On A Canyon Shopping Spree!

Follow Along And See The Great Gifts They Chose To Surprise Mom. . .

At The Blue Daisy, Mother's Day shopping for Lauren Smith was easy. From a huge selection of gift items, Lauren admires a Kingman Turquoise Squash Blossom with a ring and bracelet to match. There's lots more to choose from like a blue satin glass bowl and an assortment of hand crafts and collectables priced under $5. Lauren, daughter of Ted and Karen Smith, knows all the gifts from The Blue Daisy will make this Mother's Day the happiest ever.

Cody Wilhelm's Mom loves to grow house plants — so what better gift than these colorful straw basket planters to really make Mom's plants stand out. At the Village Shoppe, Tina Brunson helped Cody decide which brilliantly spring-colored basket Mom would like best, then Cody, son of Mr. and Mrs. Van Wilhelm, had it gift-wrapped. Any Mom's Day gift-buyer will be glad they shopped The Village Shoppe first. It's the Hallmark Store that always keeps top-quality gift items available for everyone — especially Mom!

Shopping at Dan's 5th Avenue, Mike & Scott Truitt, sons of Mr. and Mrs. L.D. Truitt, were a little uncertain as to what Grandmom would like for her Special Day. But then they met up with Bynum Morris working on a needlepoint canvas with colorful Appleton® Wool. Grandmom's always creating with Arts & Crafts, so why not needlepoint, too? When completed, any of the hundreds of selections at Dan's 5th Avenue would make a great pillow cover, chair seat or foot stool cover. This Mom's Day, give Grandmom a gift she can create herself — Shop Dan's 5th Avenue — Canyon's "creative" Store.

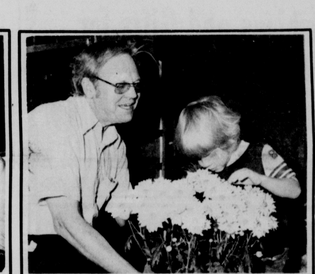

For Kim Hill, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Hill, shopping was a snap at Bethel Jewelers. Kim pulled "double-duty" — shopping not only for Mom, but Grandmom, too. At Bethel Jewelers, Kim got lots of help from owner, Martha Bethel, and expert advice on a diamond ring she spied for Mom along with a gold wrist-watch, accented with diamonds, she picked out for Grandmother. Of course, both gifts are aimed at making the two most special ladies in her life feel as special as they really are and only from Bethel Jewelers.

The daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Mike Callahan knows their Mom enjoys outdoor living, so Jennifer and Michelle decided to shop Dolle's Lawn and Garden Center to "dress up" Mom's yard, and make her spring and summer months more fun. For Mom's patio planter box, Michelle picked out bright pink geraniums: and from owner, Don Dolle, Jennifer learned how to care for the yellow and red roses she chose for Mom's backyard. Just like their love, Michelle and Jennifer, gave gifts that grow. You can give "gifts that grow," too, when you shop Canyon's complete indoor and outdoor living shop — Dolle's Lawn and Garden Center.

After Mike & Scott rushed home to show Mom their gift for Grandmother, they watched her admiring Grandmom's canvas and suddenly realized that another selection from Dan's 5th Avenue would be ideal for Mom, too! This time, Bynum showed Mike and Scott a Latch Hook Rug in the popular Navajo Pattern. Since they come in kits, everything was already boxed and ready for gift wrapping. The boys decided the best part about Mom's gift was that she could use it either as a floor rug or an attractive wall hanging to cover a bare wall space in Mom's den. It's for sure, Mom will love it — and love shopping Dan's 5th Avenue. They have the largest art-needlework selection in the Tri-State Area!

While shopping for his Mom at HR's Flowers and Gifts, Shane Rolen, son of Police Lt. and Mrs. Tom Rolen, didn't search long before these potted Yellow Daisy Mums caught his fancy. H.R. Fulton, owner of Canyon's largest flower and gift shop, helped Shane with his selection and explained their easy-care instructions. Everyone at HR's Flowers and Gifts is eager to make Mom's Day one she'll remember always — No question that Shane's gift (with a little help from HR's) will leave a lasting impression of love beginning Sunday, May 9th.

When Andrea Rashall, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. C.J. Rashall, stopped in at the Carriage House, she was right on target. With a little help from owner, Ken Thompson, Andrea found a crisp white polyester knit tennis dress, trimmed with rows of Navy Blue Piping. Ken and Andrea agreed that Mom has a great "serve" from the kitchen — but in this outfit, and on the courts, she'll not only look smashing, but so will her serve, since all tennis fashions at The Carriage House are made for flexible play and easy care. Give your Mom an outfit she can win in and at the same time look like the winner she is. Give her tennis fashions from The Carriage House.

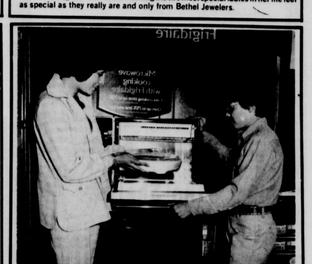

Since Mom's a tennis buff, Allison Pride didn't ponder a second over WHERE to shop for her Mom's Day gift — she KNEW. At Sports Gallery! With the help of Susan Wilbur, Allison chose 2 tennis fashions by Hang Ten® to make her Mom sparkle on the courts. A top and shorts set trimmed in peach and sky blue, and an airy white tennis dress edged in the same soft blue. Both sets are made for comfort to make her sports-minded Mom play and look her best. Allison, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Carl Pride, chose the most fashionable sportswear boutique in Canyon to shop for her Mom — So Can You!

While "Sis" shopped in Sports Gallery, Michele Pride thumbed through a rack of pant suits and called on Susan for help. Like Allison, Michele found shopping at Sports Gallery not only ideal for Mom's, but for Grandmother's, too, and promptly picked out this Earth Green polyester and cotton outfit. It's accented with wooden buttons, and also at the waist with a natural braided rope belt. Grandma might not be a tennis buff — but Michele knows she'll look spectacular in the grandstands wearing this "super-look" ensemble from Sports Gallery.

At West Texas Western Wear, Jeffrey and Jay Sims hobble and hog tie their present for Mom (Chosen from the large selection of coordinates behind them). Sons of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Sims, Jeffrey and Jay know Mom cottons to the flavor of the old west and all the great fashion-looks they found — including boots, moccasins and purses. For young shoppers (and Dad's, too) West Texas Western Wear has just the right gift to brand Mom "the greatest in all the world."

Eddie Collier, son of Ed and Nancy Collier, was determined to give his Mom convenience this year. So for Mother's Day, he shopped the "Microwave Oven Headquarters" in Canyon — Anderson Appliance. Millie Fromm showed Eddie the time-saving features of the Frigidaire Microwave Oven and in no time, Eddie was operating the oven himself. Something that easy had to be convenient and Eddie calculated the Frigidaire Microwave would save his Mom over 700 hours a year in the kitchen, and still have the same, great family meals. This Mother's Day, be like Eddie: Think of Convenience. Think of the Frigidaire Microwave Oven. THEN think of Anderson Appliance.

Teresa Rashall envied her shopping spree with big sister and decided to shop for Grandmother at The Carriage House, too. Recently Teresa noted Grandmom's purse was looking a bit worn and asked Ken for some helpful advice. Choosing from a large selection of colorful hand and shoulder bags, Teresa picked a soft spring green vinyl purse with lots of roomy pockets. An added surprise will be the gift certificate she had gift wrapped so Grandmother can come in and choose from an even larger selection of shoes to match. The Rashall daughters are certain their Grandmom — and Mom — will love their present, gift wrapped free. You can be certain, too, when you shop at The Carriage House.

Because there's not another one like her in the world, Audra and Elizabeth Lilley decided to give their Mom a bluebonnet painting by famed artist D. Crow. Both Mom and the painting, of course, are "originals." Daughters of Donald and Sue Lilley, Audra and Elizabeth arranged a "personal" showing with D. Crow to choose the one they thought Mom would like most. It was a hard decision, but finally they found one depecting a field of bluebonnets under a cloud-dotted blue sky. D. Crow's showings encompass the entire Southwest — but for Mom's Day, she'll be glad to open her doors at the Bluebonnet Art Gallery and show personally her famed originals. Nothing less for the Mom who's an "original" herself.

The large selection of lounging pajamas at Jeans Juniors made April McRoberts' shopping a breeze. She already knew she wanted to give her Mom "comfort" this year and at the same time, give her "style." That's why April chose this fashionable red and white striped terry knit outfit that says, without words, her Mom's the best-loved Mom around. The daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don McRoberts, April got lots of attention and help with her selection from Jan McGill. When you Shop Jeans Juniors, you will, too. They know how to help all Mom's Day Shoppers say "I Love You" without saying a word.

It's a secret between Carol Zeeck and 3-year-old Cathy Corbitt — but won't Mom be surprised when she comes in and finds her "old" couch turned into a new one! Cathy, daughter of Jerrell and Bobbie Corbitt, planned well ahead to have Canyon Upholstery rework her Mom's couch just in time for Mom's Special Day - Carol, owner of Canyon Upholstery, has over 16 years experience in making Mom's happy, along with a tremendous choice of fabrics that can really "deal" with family living. It's not too late to make Mom's happy day happier — just "announce" your intentions then call Carol to have her make Mom's "old" couch or chair into one she'll really love. Even if it isn't finished by May 9th — it'll be a gift to last every day of the year!

Although Carrie Childers is only 3½, she knows the great fashion looks to be found at Merle Norman's Cosmetic Studio. Her Grandmother, Genelle Bourland, owner of Merle Norman's, helped Carrie sort through over 10 dozen scarves to give her Mom's everyday clothes a not-so-everyday look. After all, Carrie thinks her Mom — and all Moms — deserves the very best fashion accessories found in Canyon and that's at Merle Norman's. Besides scarves, there's sun hats, eye shades, fashion watches, a terrific wake-up line and perfumes and fragrances, and more! This Mom's Day, find the gift your Mom deserves. Merle Norman's will make it easy.

The Zello twins, Karen and Kim, do shopping for their Mom, Pat Zello, at The Furniture Galleries. Owner Lois Rice looks on as the twins try hard to pick between two small giraffes for the mantle — or — would one large one to sit on be better? No doubt, Mom would like all three, or any of the hundreds of other decorative selections for her home at The Furniture Galleries.

Scott Harrell, son of L. Linda Harrell, went on his shopping spree with Grandmother on his mind, and found exactly the right gift at Gibson's Discount Center. Maurine Thomas helped Scott choose from Gibson's great selection of perfumes and fragrances — but after one "sniff," Scott decided the perfumed bath powder by Intimate® was just what his Grandmom would like best! Let Gibson's help you remember Mother — and Grandmother — on her Special Day.

Shopping the vast array of tops and bottoms at Tinas makes Mother's Day shopping fun — so while his younger brother shopped for Grandmother, Todd Harrell stopped by to see Tina Nance, owner of Tina's, and picked out a cool three-piece pantsuit for Mom. The easy-care polyester tank top and pants are springtime peach and are accented by a printed sheer long-sleeved blouse in shades of blue, beige, and peach on a white background. Todd's looking forward to surprising his Mom with this great gift, thanks to Tina's. So stop by and let Tina's help surprise your Mom, too!

Joe Bob Corbitt agreed with his little sister that Mom needed and wanted her couch reupholstered — but he decided to give a gift to make Mom feel PRETTY, too. After a hard day of shuffling kids, Dad and the household around, Mom will feel cool and comfortable in this powder blue gown and robe set from Anthony's. Manager Richard Adams took care to make suggestions and pointed out the pastel shades of powder blue, lemon yellow and a light spring pink — all made in 100% Nylon loungewear®. Anthony's has lots of gift ideas to make any Mom look forward to the end of her day, especially on Sunday, May 9th.

Little people know their way around Tweedledee and know that they have clothes for young Mothers. But does Dad know? To be sure Mom got what she wanted, Chris, son of Steve and Karen Kuykendall, asked Kay Henderson for some advice. After searching through Tweedledee's big selection of Juniors, Chris decided on this Victorian style jumper and blouse by Fadoosie®. Its colors are natural and black; its style is pert and percocious. Granted, Tweedledee is famous for making children look special for Moms — but they can also make Mom's look special for them, too!

The look on Debra Cline's face reflects a sure certainty that Mom is gonna' love her gift! Debra's Mom, Mrs. Martha Mazura, is an antique enthusiast — So Heritage Antiques was Debra's first and ONLY stop on her shopping spree. Debra, along with Beverly Peters, owner of Heritage Antiques, toured her Antique Shop to get the best idea of what Mom would like and Beverly, of course, gave lots of helpful, expert answers to all her questions. For Debra, choosing from all the great gift ideas was almost overwhelming, but finally this 5-piece chocolate set caught her eye and her mind was made up. On your shopping spree, give Mom a little of the "past" to trigger fond memories. She'll love you for it — And that's the best reason ever to Shop Heritage Antiques.

Boy! Will Mom EVER like this gift. Deciding what to get Mom was easy for Mitch Parker, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gene Parker. The gift — A year's subscription to The Canyon News — will give Mom hours of reading pleasure. Jo Castleman hands Mitch a recent copy of Randall County's official newspaper. It's always filled with great news about County, Canyon, and area residents. Like "Where" "When" and "What's" going on, fun to read columns, thought provoking editorials, controversial subjects, election results and school happenings. The list is endless but always up-to-date. Inside, Mom can also find the neatest buys and products offered by merchants — so "Shopping" through The Canyon News will make Mom lots of time, too! Mitch is super-confident Mom will love her gift. This Mom's Day, you can be confident, too. Call 655-7121 and order your Mom a subscription Now!

She advocated that school boards discontinue allowing their teachers to pay TSTA dues through a payroll deduction plan, contending that such an allowance supported TSTA's goals and the goals of the National Education Association, which is likewise pushing for federal legislation requiring collective bargaining for teachers.

She said the two organizations have organizers throughout the state organizing the teachers in a union-style effort.

Todd Kent

Kent to play in state meet

Canyon High's top-rated tennis player, Todd Kent, earned a place in state competition with a runner-up finish in regional play at Odessa last Saturday.

Kent, a sophomore playing for the first time in regional competition, took the district title here two weeks ago.

He is the first CHS tennis player to advance to state competition.

Kent, competing in singles, won his semi-final match 3-6, 7-6 and 6-2, winning a 5-1 tie breaker. In the finals, he lost 6-1 and 6-3 to Seminole senior Lindy Woods.

Both Woods and Kent will compete May 14-15 in the state tournament in Austin.

Mark Sullivan, playing for the second time in regional, and was district runner-up to Kent, lost to Woods in the first match, 7-5 and 7-5.

Kent is the son of Mr. and Mrs. David Kent of Canyon. Prior to his win at Odessa, he had competed during Easter holidays in a state-wide tournament in Dallas, where he reached the final round before being defeated. In competition last summer, he reached the finals in the ten tournaments in which he entered. Kent's father is head tennis coach at WTSU.

Umpire school

A training session for prospective Little League umpires will be held tonight at 7 p.m. at the Activities Center.

Dr. Myron Dees, a former Little League umpire, will instruct. All persons interested in serving as umpires this summer are asked to attend.

Turner sets region record with 6 under par round

A Canyon High senior set a regional record and nearly tied the record for the course with a six under par 64 on the second day of the regional golf play Saturday at Andrews Country Club.

Bill Turner earned the regional medalist title and a spot in the state tournament May 14 and 15. He shot a 76 on the first 18 holes Friday and then came through with his record-smashing 64 the next round. The course record is 63.

Turner earned district medalist and this season has been medalist at Hereford, Lubbock and Muleshoe. He is the first CHS golfer to advance to state playoffs and, according to golf coach B.B. Kendrick, is probably the first golfer from this district to earn the regional medalist title.

The Canyon five-man team missed the state tourney by one stroke.

They were holding second place by three strokes on Friday, turning in a 311 that day over Pecos' 314.

Sparked by Turner's 64 on Saturday, the team turned in a 304 score but Pecos had a 300 to edge the Eagle golfers from second place. Ft. Stockton, the favorite, won regional first with a 590 for the two days.

Individual Canyon scores were: Bryan Garner, 74 and 77 for a 151; J.P. Allen, 77 and 80 for a 157; Bill Turner, 76 and 64 for a 140; Sandy Winn, 84 and 83 for 167.

Rober McNabb's 84 and 85 were not counted in the team score.

Turner will play in Austin next week at Morris Williams Golf Course.

Local runners win trophies

Approximately 50 runners competed Saturday in the first orienteering meet held in Palo Duro Canyon State Park.

Canyon Boy Scouts Nicky Coleman and Quince Boyce won first and second place, respectively, in the beginners junior male division.

Other local winners included Gay Heil, a WTSU student, first in the intermediate female class, and Paulette Burrhus, Canyon coach, second in the same class; Mist Wilson, of Sunday Canyon, winner of the beginners senior female class and Laurie Telfair, second; James Power, WTSU student, winner of the advanced junior male class, and Jim Goheen, WTSU student, second.

Other winners were Marine Capt. Higgenbotthem, of Amarillo, winner of the advanced senior male category and Army Capt. Loop, of Cameron University, second; Donald Blaylock and Mike Yazbek, both of Amarillo High, first and second in the intermediate male class; Kim Reynolds and Sue Williams, both of Amarillo High, winners in the beginners junior female class.

The meet sponsored by the WT organization Panhandle Orienteers is the first orienteering meet to be held in the Panhandle. A second competition is planned for the fall.

Law officers to play ball

Randall County deputies Mike Coy and Joe Dempsey and DPS officer Tim Humphries will take to the basketball court Saturday night against the Wayland Flying Queens in a benefit game sponsored by the United Peace Officers.

The game at 8 p.m. at the Amarillo Civic Center will benefit Boys' Ranch.

Other local officials at the game will be County Judge Woody Pond, Justice of the Peace Bill Wilson, Sheriff Cliff Longest and Deputy Ray Tinsley, all directors of the law enforcement association.

WT club hosts rodeo May 7-8

Members of the West Texas State University Rodeo Club will host the Region I High School Rodeo May 7, 8 and 9 at the WTSU arena north of the horse center.

Rodeo entries must be returned to Chuck Smallwood, admissions advisor, WTSU, Canyon, Texas 79016, before April 16.

Winners of the regional rodeo will compete in the state high school final June 15 through 19 in Halletsville.

Participants in the regional rodeo must be members of the Texas High School Rodeo Association, Inc., Dr. Charles Smallwood, dean of agriculture, said.

Membership applications may be obtained from high school sponsors, principals or Chuck Smallwood. Applications must be processed 30 days before the regional rodeo.

"This is the first time regional qualifying rodeos have been held prior to the state rodeo in Texas," Dr. Smallwood said.

Events for boys and entry fees are bull riding, $10; steer wrestling, $7.50; bareback bronc riding, $10; saddle bronc riding, $10; tiedown calf roping, $7.50; and cutting horse contest, $10.

Girls events and charges are cloverleaf barrel race, $5; pole bending race, $5; breakaway roping, $5; and goat tying, $5. Girls may enter the queen contest at no charge.

Team roping will be available for both boys and girls at $10 per team.

Contestants must sign in one-and-one-half hours before performances.

CHS trackmen place in region fail to qualify

Although all their runners placed in 3A regional competition at Odessa Saturday, Canyon High failed to have a qualifier for the state meet.

The sprint relay team turned in its best performance of the season, running in 44.2 seconds but the time was only fast enough for fifth place among the top teams in the region.

CHS sprint relay team members are Robert Scott, Lyndon Brazil, Phillip Halsted and Dave McKay.

McKay was sixth in the 100 yard dash, running in 10.5 and sixth also in the 220 where he ran in 23.6.

Brazil placed fifth in both the 220 and the 440 dashes, running the 220 in 23.5 and the longer distance in 51.3.

Brent Sherwood placed fifth in the shotput with a 49-7½ throw and Colin Weaver was sixth with a 48-8¾ distance.

Pottery exhibit Sunday features local artist

Pottery work by Joyce Boston, Happy graduate, will be on display May 9, in the Formal Lounge of the West Texas State University Fine Arts Building.

A reception will be held Sunday from 2-5 p.m.

The highlight of the exhibit will be the display of the artist's Graduate Studio Project which consists of an 8 ft. ceramic mural, constructed from Raku-fired pieces assembled onto a circular board.

Raku, an ancient Japanese pottery technique, involves a very rapid firing cycle; the pots are placed into and removed from a red-hot kiln and placed in sawdust or other combustible material for reduction. The exhibit will also include a series of large ceramic sculptures and about 25 planters.

Miss Boston's paintings and pottery have previously been exhibited at the Amarillo Art Center, Kerrville Arts and Crafts Fair in 1972, Borger Arts Festival, Running Water Draw Arts Festival in Plainview in October, 1975 and several one-man shows in the Formal Lounge of the Fine Arts Building.

She is currently a teaching assistant in the WTSU Art Department, working on a Masters Degree, and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben C. Boston of Happy. She resides at 100 20th St. Canyon.

Lovely days are here

BY DORIS McKEE

I WAS DOWNHEARTED, lonely and blue;
Then someone came by — a friend that I knew
"Tis good to see you," she said with a big smile
And how it did cheer me, made life seem worthwhile.

Public review slated May 10

Cotton Mather, an important religious personality of the Colonial period of American History, will be the subject of a review discussion to be sponsored by Canyon Public Library Board next Monday evening, May 10.

The public review will begin at 7 p.m. at Canyon Community Center with Rev. Baldwin J. Stribling, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church of Canyon, as the speaker. Refreshments of coffee and cookies are being furnished by the library board following the program.

The religious personality, Cotton Mather, was an instrumental figure during the Colonial period of the "witches trial." He was a preacher, historian, scientist and intellectual of the period, according to the reviewer.

The public review will be one of several being planned by the Canyon Public Library Board in coming months.

ANGELIQUE HENRY WAS 11 years old on Saturday, May 1. She celebrated with a slumber party.

The birthday honoree and guests, Shelley Peterson, Sue Ann Doan, Kaye Lynn Stubblefield, Joanna Hurst, Tisha Selvidge, Connie Venhaus, Rocelia Vandergriff, and Molly Parker, had Great Gramm's Beefy Burgers, chocolate birthday cake and ice cream for supper.

For breakfast, we had Swedish Tea Ring and cocoa. Believe it or not, we were early for Sunday School.

About fifteen minutes before church was over, I happened to glance at "my" pew and they were all slumped down asleep. Since Angelique was sitting almost to the other end, I asked them to punch her and tell her to sit up. It worked! . . . all the way across.

Great Gramm's Beefy Burgers was the prize winning recipe of Robin Frost in the 1974 New Mexico Beef Fair.

The cake had to be Ruth Sim's with her icing. And I never buy mixes of any kind. So I proceeded to make the cake with the additions and it worked. Miracles do still happen!

Angelique had a successful party.

Federated council to meet Tuesday

Canyon City Federated Club's Council will be holding a general election meeting and making plans for the club year 1976-77 at a meeting Tuesday, May 11, at 1:30 p.m. in the home of Mrs. John Childs, 1409 Creekmere.

Joint budget meet today in Amarillo

Representatives of three local governmental entities are to meet at 8 a.m. today in Amarillo, but there was concern this week locally about what exactly is to be accomplished at the meeting.

Mayor John Drummond of Amarillo said the meeting is not to be "a witch hunt," but that the officials will go over Randall County's budget to see whether taxes collected from Amarillo taxpayers are being spent on Amarillo taxpayers.

Randall County officials earlier this week indicated they won't go for an examination of their budget alone.

Today's meeting of Randall County, Potter County and City of Amarillo commissioners is an outgrowth of a meeting last Thursday of the three groups and the City of Canyon commissioners. During that meeting, Randall County Commissioner Dee Griffin said 90 per cent of the tax money collected by the county comes from citizens of Canyon and Amarillo but that 90 per cent of the budgets for various offices—excluding the road maintenance department—goes back to services for those residents.

Randall County commissioners this week expressed concern privately over the intent of Amarillo officials in the meeting today.

They indicated they will demand that if Randall County's budget is to be dissected to discern its input to citizens of Amarillo that Potter County's budget also be brought into focus. They indicated scrutiny of the City of Amarillo budget might also be called for.

The representatives are to meet at the Travelodge West in Amarillo.

Mass schedule to change

By REBA RAEF

SUNDAY MASS SCHEDULE for St. Mary's in Umbarger will be changed beginning Sunday, May 9th. There will be only one Mass, beginning at 8 a.m.

We will continue this schedule until we are assigned a resident pastor.

During the month of May, which is dedicated to the Mother of Jesus, the Rosary will be recited before the Mass each Sunday, beginning at 7:45.

Last Sunday, at 10 a.m., three little girls made their First Holy Communion, Gracie Friemel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R.D. Friemel, and Kim and Kelly Smith, twin daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Smith.

The Liturgy, before the Mass, began with a procession, with the First Communicants and their parents as they sang the "Ave Maria." Each Communicant carried her own Baptismal candle, which was placed in front of the statue of the Sacred Heart. The candles were lighted and burned during the Mass, symbolizing the Light of Christ each had received when she was Baptized.

At the Offertory of the Mass, the parents of the Communicants carried the gifts to the Altar and each little girl carried white daisies, which were placed at Mary's feet. Our congratulations to Gracie, Kim and Kelly and their parents.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON AT 5:00 the crowning of the Blessed Virgin Mary was held. A procession of the C.C.D. classes, carrying the banners of the 15 decades of the Rosary entered the church as they sang hymns to Mary. The kindergarten class crowned the Blessed Virgin.

JoAnna Grabber, daughter of Ed and Judy Grabber placed the crown on her head and Chris Meyer, son of Vincent and Gladys Meyer, placed the Rosary at her feet. The rest of the class of seven carried bouquets of white lilies and daisies and placed them on either side of Mary.

Mrs. Ray Gerber explained the Sorrowful and Glorious mysteries of the Rosary and then the Joyful mysteries were recited, as the younger children placed flowers on a large Rosary, small flowers for the "Hail Mary's" and red roses for the Lord's prayer and the "Glory Be" beads.

The ceremony ended with the singing of hymns to Mary and Angeline Haschke played the "Ave Maria" on the violin. Rose Mary Ramaekers played the organ and directed the singing. Flowers for the ceremony were from the gardens of E.J. Friemel and L.A. Haschke.

LAST MONDAY, QUITE a few of our parishoners gathered at the church and moved the church pews to the parish hall, to be repaired and refinished.
